Dear Members of the Class of 2005:

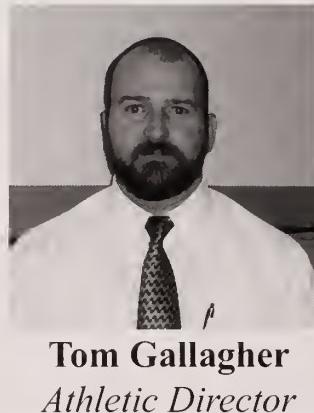

This yearbook commemorates the events and people who have shaped your high school experience. There have been many changes for each of you as you have matured through your high school years.

Your four years have gone by quickly. You have been a class that has shown success in the classroom, in the athletics arena and in the arts. There are many outstanding individual accomplishments to reflect upon. Perhaps your strongest impact is in helping to shape the positive school culture of Ipswich High School.

As you move on to the next phase of your life, the faculty joins me in wishing each of you the very best. We will miss you as you have each left a significant mark upon the memories of your high school experience, yet be ready to take on the challenge ahead.

This year couldn't have gone by with the success that it did without the help of many people. We thank our class advisors for their tremendous amount of help, our parents for all of the support they provided us, as well the senior, junior and sophomore class officers. We greatly appreciate the thoughtfulness of the senior officers who took the time to meet with us at the beginning of the year and explain what we would be going through. As well as the many times they were there to answer our various questions throughout the year. Good luck to the four of you and the class of 2005.

As for the class of 2008, we have three more years to go but as Vernon Law says, "Experience is a hard teacher because she gives the test first, the lesson afterwards." The test has been given and a good lesson has been learned, but it is up to us as a class to take that knowledge and move forward in the right direction.

Well, I guess you can say we're on our way to making it. With one foot in the door and the other just outside, our class was able to take the plunge into high school and at the very least we can say we're still standing. With one year past we look back at all of the last minute scheduling, frantic phone calls, unplanned events and chaos that took place amidst the good things we were able to accomplish this year. Yet more importantly we value those experiences and the lessons we have learned from them. As a class we look forward to the next three years and the many great things we know we are capable of achieving.

The road this year wasn't always that rough. During spirit week we were able to pull out "one of the best freshmen walls I've ever seen here at Ipswich High School," as Assistant Principal David Dalton put it, and we also put forth quite a bit of competition in the talent show.

Sophomores

easy, this year we are all realizing some of the hardships that may lie in our future paths. Even through these problems, the sophomores are moving on to the next year prepared for what's ahead. To more fully equip the sophomores for junior year, I have this piece of advice; our class is numerous and we need to work together to reach the goals that have been so largely looked over by so many people. I ask not only the Class of 2007 to work and cooperate together, but all of IHS. Try to participate, try to be optimistic; with the help of each other, anything is possible.

that we can all connect as a truly unified class. Even though we are all diverse and have many different aspirations for the future, this junior class has an undeniable bond. I hope that our remaining time at Ipswich High School is unforgettable and cherished by each one of us. Finally, I would like to say that I am honored to be the class president and I want to say good luck to each person in the class and in everything they do.

Juniors

People always say that junior year of high school proves to be the most challenging part of a person's academic career. I hope that, as a class, we can make our junior year here at Ipswich High School an enjoyable and memorable time. There are many important decisions we will all have to make this year, and we all have the opportunity to change our future. We all have each other for support and we are extremely lucky to have such a dynamic and motivated class. It is really important

"May the road rise to meet you.
May the wind be always at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face.
And rains fall soft upon your fields.

And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand...

Always remember to forget
The troubles that passed away.
But never forget to remember
The blessings that come each day."

~An Irish Blessing

Class of 2005, we did it! We have gone through so many things together, not just in high school, but in life. These past four years (for many of us, twelve) we have united to create something very special, a class of its own. We are finally at the beginning of a new day; the future awaits us! Go forward with an open mind, heart, and soul. We are all capable of great things; it just takes that little extra push to make our dreams a reality.

The officers would like to extend our great thanks and appreciation to Jane McNally, our wonderful Class Advisor, for her four years of hard and dedicated work. Thanks to all of our parents in the Class of 2005 for showing all of your support and interest in our class. To the faculty, not only have you been more than generous with your time and efforts to teach us, but many of you have extended more to us than just teaching abilities, you have become people in our lives we will never forget. Class of 2005, congratulations, you are awesome!

You sound like the State of the City Address

Let me hear the altos, tenors, and...whatever that is over there

Just...stop touching each other

Try it again, and this time don't sound like a herd of elephants

Your pants are unacceptable

Josh! Come out of the closet! Seriously!

O

I know sarcasm doesn't work, but it makes me feel better

You need to sound good, I'm willing to accept that you look horrible

a

You have this..thing, in your hand...that you need to conquer

You guys sound like bums in the Boston Commons!

I'm going to put football helmets on you like in Mr. Holland's Opus, but instead of hitting you on the head with a drumstick,
I'll use a hammer.

Promise me you'll give faith a fighting chance.

...I hope you dance.

Thank you To our yearbook advisors...

Mrs. Welch.

The yearbook staff and I would like to apologize to your adorable twins, mother with the same last name (confusing me on the phone) and husband, for stealing you every week. The yearbook would not be what it is without your endless copy editing (which I so desperately need) artistic guidance and overall support. So thank you very much.

Mr. Merullo.

Thank you for all of your endless work during the production of the yearbook! The yearbook would not be able to run without all that you do. We would like to deeply thank you for your tremendous help with the business section. All of the parent messages and business ads would not have come through without your support. Your advice was priceless to us, and we truly appreciate all of your dedication.
